

Terms & Conditions

Once a sale has taken place, no tickets may be exchanged, or money refunded. We will gladly try and re-sell tickets on behalf of customers. There is no guarantee that we will be able to do so, though we are usually 90% successful. No charge is made for this service. If a customer wishes us to re-sell tickets, then they must return the originals to us before we will be able to attempt to re-sell them. Any change or exception to this policy is entirely at the discretion of the management.
